Introducing the Lott

Introducing the Lott!

Your one-stop lotteries shop.

Say 'hello' to the Lott – the symbol of "Australia's Official Lotteries" by Tatts. We're the same company you know and trust. Tatts will continue to provide your favourite lottery games, whether you like to play in-store, online or on the App.

From 1 June 2016 you'll begin to see the Lott brand name appear in-store and online. The Lott is the mark of trust that unites Tatts Group's Australian lottery brands including Tatts, NSW Lotteries, Golden Casket and SA Lotteries under one banner.

You can continue to visit tatts.com and you'll be redirected to thelott.com/tattersalls. There is nothing you need to do - simply continue playing your favourite lottery games. Click here for more information, or visit the Contact Us page on thelott.com/tattersalls.

Changes online

You will see the Lott logo added to the Tatts website from 1 June. We have also updated the account section with a fresh, new look. You can still do all the things you did in your online account before, and your username and password will stay the same.

Changes in-store

Over the coming months you will start to see the Lott brand name on some posters, brochures and signage at your local outlet, together with the Tatts logo. It will not replace Tatts, the Lott is where you go to purchase your favourite lottery games.
